BRIDE&GROOM TAKES HIS LIFE JUST FEW HOURS AFTER HE IS MARRIED

Kisses His Young Wife Good-By, Goes to His Work, Then Drinks Fatal Dose of Poison

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—While his bride of ten hours was singing merrily at her work in their new home at 35 Perry street at 6:15 this morning, William Graham, 35 years old, a stableman for the Standard Box Factory, was lying cold in death at the Harbor Hospital, the victim of his own hand.

Three years of ardent wooing had resulted in a quiet little ceremony in the priest's house, of St. Rose's Church, and with the benediction of Father Nugent still ringing in their ears, the couple had retired to their home, partaken of a banquet, and then, a few hours later, the bridegroom, swallowing the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, committed suicide.

His untimely end is surrounded by a shroud of mystery, and his bride, of a few hours, is sobbing herself to death, and threatening to kill herself in the now desolate home.

For several weeks it has been known by the employees at the box factory that Graham was to be married. He had been joshed by his friends and had taken it all in good part, admitting that last night the wedding ceremony was to be performed.

Yesterday, as usual, he ate lunch in Charles Hayes' Hot-L-Bath and Harrison streets, and had spoken of his coming happiness to Anthony Farrell, the steward.

Marries After Work

With the best wishes of his friends, and in the presence of the immediate family of his bride, he was married at 8 o'clock to Miss Hannah Campbell, all day yesterday having been at work stitching up the little home on Perry street, and after the ceremony, a wedding supper was served there. This morning, according to Mrs. Graham, he left the home, going straight after saying his good-bye, and went to his work at 5:30 a.m. He talked to Night Watchman Bender, and seemed quite cheerful.

Going up to the bay loft in the barn of the box factory, he evidently swallowed the contents of a vial of carbolic acid.

His groans were heard by William G. Pow, a teamster, who was rushed to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, where, despite the efforts of Dr. Eidenmuller, he died in 20 minutes.

Brake Hears Sad News

When a reporter called at the Graham house this morning, he was met by the bride, blushing with shame, and she did not mind laughing at the circumstances of her quiet wedding.

"Mr. Graham is not a Catholic," she stated, "and so we were married in the priest's house by Father Nugent. I had known my husband's secret, the fire, when we were thrown together amidst the blazes and horror of the burning of our house."

"I have been hiding with my sister, and we have been living for a long time."

"She has not heard the news of her husband's untimely end and when told to prepare herself for bad news, she cried."

"What's happened?" "Tell me, quickly, and my master charged, and she was immediately plunged into the depths of despair."

Becomes Hysterical

When informed that Graham had taken his life, she became hysterical, but was so terrified and upset that she walked up and down screaming in agony and moaning.

"Oh, why did he do it? Why did he not leave me alone? Why did he marry me? I'll never marry him again, but what about us?"

"She has not heard the news of her husband's untimely end and when told to prepare herself for bad news, she cried."

"What's happened?" "Tell me, quickly, and my master charged, and she was immediately plunged into the depths of despair."

Death of Murder

Police Officer Custer found a bottle of carbolic acid on top of a box of hats, and a small can near by with a little of the poison in each. The man had evidently swallowed enough to kill at least 100 men.

Police headquarters were notified and detectives detailed to make an investigation. There was a hint at first that the man might have been drunk, but it was quickly evident that there was no man and no one else in the bay loft at the time of the occurrence.

REPORTED AS MISSING.

General thinking is that a woman who was residing at 1419 Linden street, was reported as missing to the police by her husband, Adam Tenley. The lady's home is in Vallejo and he was staying there only temporarily.

STRIKE RANKS SWELLED BY DESERTING CREWS

Elevated and the Subway Systems Now Partially Tied Up

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Mayor Reyburn said this afternoon that developments were expected that might end the street car strike at any minute. It is believed arbitration is in sight, as Senator McMichael, the Republican leader in this city, has taken an active part in the conference today between city officials and representatives of the transit company, and it is believed the political heads are fearful their cause will be injured by a prolongation of the strike.

The saloons of the city have been ordered closed at 6 o'clock tonight.

Much Disorder

There was much disorder today in the districts that saw the rioting last night. When the streets filled with people in the business section at noon a crowd surrounded a car one block from the post office. The motorman and conductor were dragged off and beaten, and for a suit of a runaway accident in Sonoma car windows and the windows and show cases of a drug store were smashed. A policeman was hit on the head by a brick and seriously hurt. Police scurried through the crowd and made several arrests.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—At 10 o'clock this morning the elevated and subway system of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, which had been a bulwark of strength for the company since the strike began, became tied up by a partial strike of its employees. The trouble started when a west bound train reached the Forty-sixth street station. The crew was deserted.

The company issued a statement that at 9 a.m. it was operating 76 cars, two hundred more than at the same time yesterday.

James Pratt, the strike leader, announced that he had called out the elevated and subway men and that eighty-five per cent of the service on that system was tied up.

The company claims there is no strike; that two crews quit and their places were filled. It is understood that some of the men who stopped work this morning returned to their trains when assured of protection. Ample police protection now accompanies each train.

All of the injured in last night's rioting will recover. About 100 are in hospitals. The station houses were filled to overflowing with persons arrested for rioting.

As illustrating the new feeling engendered by last night's rioting, there were more minor disturbances this morning probably than at any time since the strike began. The strike sympathizers levitated their energies to the strike-breakers and others who are running the comparatively few cars that are on the street. Each car carries one or more policemen, but few passengers, the pub-

Divorce Court Leads to Altar; Marriage Secret

MRS. D. S. WILLEFORD, (Nee Miss Dell Estey), Whose Secret Marriage Has Just Become Public.

The carefully guarded secret of the marriage of Miss Dell Estey, the young woman who figured recently in the sensational Henderson divorce case, and D. S. Willeford, who was divorced less than two months ago by his wife on the grounds of cruelty, leaked out today as a sensational climax to the two marital tangles which have occupied the courts of this county for the last four months.

Miss Estey and Willeford were married in Vallejo on the 1st of May, according to details learned today, without the knowledge of even their most intimate friends, and the groom, who is a commissary steward in the navy, left the first part of this week for Manila, where it is said he intends to make a permanent home for his bride.

At Parents' Home

Mrs. Willeford is at present at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estey in East Oakland, where she will remain at present pending the hearing in a damage suit she has brought against Mrs. J. E. Henderson, former wife of the undertaker of that name, who named Miss Estey as co-plaintiff in her suit for divorce from her husband.

Mrs. Estey was able to prove her innocence of the charge and after a sensational legal battle Henderson himself was granted the divorce decree from his wife on a cross complaint.

Since then Mrs. Henderson has left the city and the suit for libel is still pending.

Mrs. Willeford, the first, former wife of the groom, when told of her recently divorced husband's second marriage this morning, declared that she had just learned of it, and further asserts that her divorced husband, less than three weeks ago, called at the house at 915 Myrtle street, where she is now living and implored her to again marry him and leave with him on the trip he is now taking to Manila.

Former Wife Talks

"I was surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Estey, though I have known of their acquaintance for some time," declared the former wife this morning. "I am sure that had I consented to re-marry with Mr. Willeford, which I did not consider for a moment, this would never have happened."

JUDGE WASTE TO GO TO MOUNTAINS

His Post Will Be Filled by Judge Wood of Amador County

Superior Judge William H. Waste is still a very sick man. Realizing this and acting upon the advice of his physicians he will again put aside his judicial duties at the end of the current week and go far up into the mountains for a period of complete rest and recuperation that will keep him away from the Superior Court until about the first of August. His colleagues of the bench have insisted upon his laying aside the crime until such time as his health will warrant him in applying himself again permanently to the regular court work.

In order that Judge Waste's absence will not delay business in Department 2, over which he presides, Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county, who sat for the sick justice part of the time, has been superseding at St. Helena, and is expected to return here and conduct his department during his absence in the mountains. Judge Wood will begin his duties under this program next Monday morning.

Judge Wood Popular

In legal circles this arrangement is meeting with general approval and satisfaction, because Judge Wood is not only regarded as one of the brightest and most efficient of the young jurists of the State, but personally is very popular and well known in Oakland.

While he resided in Contra Costa county, and was a practicing attorney of Martinez, a number of years ago, he opened an office in Oakland and finally became judge of the police court of this city, which position he held for a comparatively long period.

According to the practice of law he set up, his political forces to capture the superior judgeship of Contra Costa county, and in August of last year defeated Superior Judge Wells in a trial in the Alameda county court under appointment by the governor for the nomination on the Republican ticket.

At the November election, however, he was defeated by Judge Latimer. Not long afterward death created a vacancy in the judgeship of the Superior Court of Amador county, and as a blow to his political wounds, Governor Gillett appointed Judge Wood to the seat there.

While it cannot be stated positively at this time, it is altogether likely that Judge Wood will try out the John Claudine dynamiting case during his temporary incumbency of Judge Waste's department.

Cloudlance, who is charged with being in the conspiracy with his brother Peter, now serving a life term in the penitentiary for the crime to kill former Supervisor "Jim" Gallagher of San Francisco by blowing up his Oakland property with dynamite. From a judicial standpoint the trial of this case promises to be noteworthy.

Chief Wilson will represent Oakland at the convention and will exchange ideas with famous criminal hunters.

ORDINANCE HEREAFTER TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Alameda County Society For Study of White Plague to Hold Meeting

The Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will hold a meeting in the rooms of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce Monday, June 5, at 8:15 p.m., when plans for the future work of the organization will be discussed by the directors and others interested in the campaign against consumption. This will be the first general meeting of the organization to be presented over by the new president, Kenneth A. Milligan, who will call to the members his ideas for a general local prosecution of the law throughout the country.

In speaking of the dread disease and its suppression, Milligan, in an interview with THE TRIBUNE, said: "The heronry which prevails among the various cities in the different phases of tuberculosis is alarming. Few people know that consumption can be hand down from father to son until it finally manifests itself in spinal deformities or various clubbed-toes deformities, whose very eyes and mouth are cut out, damning proof of lack of knowledge on the part of the people."

Millions of Germs in Air

"Thousands of the tortured souls of a helpless child are snuffed out by countless infections to just a few common sense rules which, had they been followed, might have averted such a cruel condition of affairs."

The spasm of a consumptive victimized in an exposed place and blown to the wind, lodges in the throat of innocent men, women and children. The air you breathe is filled with millions of these germs. Truly, it can not affect you—necessarily not everyone who breathes them may be in a really bad condition physically to help in producing a live case of tuberculosis. But how about your wife? How about your children? How about your mother, your father, your sisters and brothers? Are you prepared to say that they are

Troy Times.—"California is joining the good roads procession and for the same reason that has actuated other communities. California finds that poor roads are serious drawbacks to the development of the State and that good roads are an economic advantage."

After this came the awakening. The letters of the Lieutenant began to change in tone. A friend pointed out to Mrs. Evans that only unhappiness could result from the marriage.

Then the "Boy" said he had mistaken sympathy for love. Mrs. Evans thereupon released him from his promise to marry, she says, and also from his promise to support her for a year. The story is best told in her own words:

"There has been too much of this Christmas day mistletoe kiss. You think that Mr. Evans is foolish enough to bring charges against Lieutenant Wayne Osburn with the navy department on account of an innocent kiss under the mistletoe on Christmas day? But he has talked to me about being a good business man and of having a fair amount of sense."

"Do you think that a sensible man would go through the notoriety attending these charges owing to an 'innocent kiss' under the mistletoe? I know Mr. Evans and I know that he would not. No! He knows the facts. He knows the manner in which Lieutenant Osburn has acted, and I am sure that he is determined to have him dismissed from the service."

"But he has thought of me? Has he ever thought of my mother? No, not he. He has only thought of himself—of how to save himself, no matter how—and he was willing to sacrifice me if by so doing he could remain in the navy. Wait till you know all, then you can judge for yourself."

"My husband is a man who stands high in his profession, none stand higher. He is devoted to his work and never thinks of pleasure. He has broken down several times from overwork. We have always differed on this subject, I did not think it right for him to give up his health and only think of his work. I thought that he should give more time to me and the children."

"Mr. Evans about this time invited Lieutenant Wayne Osburn, chief engineer of the Cheyenne, to the house to talk to him about oil burning experiments. Mr. Evans had given much study to this subject. He gave Lieutenant Osburn all his books, notes and correspondence on oil burning."

An Ardent Lover

"Lieutenant Osburn continued coming to our house and, as Mr. Evans was at his office all the time, I saw him a great deal alone. He soon came nearly every afternoon. He was good company and I enjoyed seeing him. I was also much hurt at my husband's actions and felt that he did not care for me. Mr. Osburn sent me flowers and small presents, which I accepted."

"Soon he commenced telling me of his love. Of course I should not have listened to him. I should have shown him the door and told my husband, but people will never understand the actions of a wife who believes that her husband has a fair care for her. So when telling me that his love was beyond his control, overpowering, I finally gave him his professions of love and believed in him and let him kiss me. This occurred late in November. He was seen kissing me by one of the servants. He invited me to go to San Francisco with him several times, and took me automobileing, and I had luncheon with him alone."

OSBURN MISSTOOK HIS SYMPATHY FOR LOVE

Now Mrs. Evans Declares She Will Not Protect the "Boy"

MORE THAN "THAT KISS" BACK OF THE DIVORCE

She and Lieutenant Entered Into Agreement, But He Grew Cold

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Incensed by Lieutenant Wayne Osburn's alleged lack of consideration for her in his right to retain his commission before the naval board of inquiry which is investigating his relations with the wife of Naval Constructor Holden A. Evans, Mrs. Evans has made public her relations with the young officer and now threatens to appear against him.

The woman around whom the case hinges is in Los Angeles, where she is playing in a vaudeville theater on the circuit she joined shortly after her divorce.

"I have been silent too long because I wished to spare Lieutenant Osburn his commission, but I understand that he has tried, because of my generous silence, to shift all of the blame for the world again on my shoulders, and I shall now show him up in his true light," declares Mrs. Evans.

Entered Agreement

"The truth of the matter is, I intended to marry 'Boy' Osburn after the necessary year following my divorce had elapsed, and we entered into an agreement whereby he should support me during the interval."

Ten days after the divorce, she says, Osburn wrote her he cared for her as a friend only and she released him from the marriage engagement.

"Do you think Mr. Evans is so foolish as to bring charges all on account of an innocent mistake kiss?" asked Mrs. Evans. "Would a sensible man beg notoriety for a mistake kiss?"

Young Osburn, it is said, first came to the Evans home at the invitation of the naval constructor, and things finally came to a pass where Osburn, according to Mrs. Evans, agreed to marry her.

But he begged her to return but the glamour of the ardent attentions of the young Lieutenant caused her to refuse, she says.

After this came the awakening. The letters of the Lieutenant began to change in tone. A friend pointed out to Mrs. Evans that only unhappiness could result from the marriage.

Then the "Boy" said he had mistaken sympathy for love. Mrs. Evans thereupon released him from his promise to marry, she says, and also from his promise to support her for a year. The story is best told in her own words:

WILL ENLARGE FREIGHT YARDS

Southern Pacific to Build More
Scale Floors and Platforms

The Southern Pacific is soon to undertake the work of increasing the facilities for the handling of the business in the Kirkham street freight yards, a fact which will be appreciated by the merchants of this city, who have heretofore experienced some inconvenience because of the delays which the lack of the conveniences occasioned.

Among the improvements which are to be introduced are more scale floors and platforms, which have been rendered necessary by reason of the greatly increased business done at the place. When the company laid out the present grounds and built its freight depot, it thought that the accommodations provided were ample for many years. When only a few years had passed the company was compelled to build another shed and now comes the demand for even still greater accommodations.

CHIQUITA TALKS TO BETTY MARTIN

By BETTY MARTIN.
"A Wild Rose" and Chiquita leading attractions at the Bell Theater this week. There is an entertaining program at the Bell Theater this week, two numbers particularly being deserving of comment.

Chiquita, the midget, is no stranger to Oakland. She has exhibited here before, and to big audiences. This time, however, she appears in the guise of singer and dancer, giving two songs—one in English, the other in Italian. The dance, consisting of a series of waltz steps, follows.

I talked with this little lady after the performance, and felt all the while as though holding converse with a good-sized doll. For Chiquita in her dressing room, I suppose, anything is possible when on the stage. This may or may not have been due to the fact that she had already changed her stage gown of peacock grey satin and lace for a street dress of walking length, below which peeped out a pair of little shoes. In the dressing room with her were her husband and a maid, who withdrew when I might have a chair. Then, there might be no delusions concerning Chiquita's weight, her husband deposited her in my lap, where she sat for a few moments, demonstrating that the thirty pounds avundous claimed for her was rather under than above weight.

Chiquita has traveled the globe many times, and has appeared, with two exceptions, before every crowned head. "See," exclaimed she, holding out for inspection her tiny right hand, "here is a diamond cluster given me by King Edward!" This seal of royal favor was accompanied by a gallant speech from England's King, who said that while he had often read of fairies, Chiquita was the first he ever had had the pleasure of beholding in person.

Chiquita will be at the Bell for the remainder of the week. She is a Cuban by birth, and speaks three languages—English, Spanish and Italian, with equal facility. Her home is at Erie, Pennsylvania, but she is very fond of California, and proposes to invest in property either at Los Angeles or in Oakland, both of which cities she loves.

"A Wild Rose" is the poetic title of the playlet presented by Mrs. Mrs. Arthur Forbes and company, and this piece presents a combination of qualities not too rare in modern plays. It both amuses and instructs—the latter without preaching. There are no tedious speeches, but plenty of action wherein Mrs. Forbes can do justice to her dramatic powers.

The Wild Rose

"A Wild Rose" is the story of two men and a woman. Frank and Nellie Sheldon are man and wife. Behind them are five years of domestic bliss. But too much peace and a wife of quiet tastes have begun to pall upon the man, who makes a confession of an old college chum, Dr. Niel Marsden. The conversation between the two is overheard by Nellie, who immediately resolves to play the part of a "woman of the world." This she does successfully, through connivance on the part of Dr. Marsden. The husband passes through successive stages of astonishment, disgust and despair, until the plot is revealed and happiness restored.

Gertrude Dean Forbes belongs to the ranks of the legitimate, but is in vaudeville because she "does not have to separate from her husband," which would be the case were she to play other combinations. She was in California less than three years ago, appearing in an original sketch entitled the "Two Rubies." Although on the stage daily, during spare hours she is at work on a play designed for and suggested by Shubert of New York.

The New Theme

"The theme on which I am working," explained she, "has never been presented on the stage, and I hope soon to finish the work."

Personally, Mrs. Forbes is very attractive. She is a good conversationalist as well as an actress of ability, whose work, while full of fire and vim, does not descend to vulgarity.

Leon Miller and Grace Tempest called their skit "Kiss Trix," which unique title, properly read, reveals the secret of a pair of agile performers.

Cal Stewart is a sure enough "corner grocery story teller." Grover and Richards, through medium of vocal and instrumental performances, furnish considerable fun, and Fox and Crystal proclaim themselves to be the "original brokers of Hebrew comedy."

Many of our citizens are drifting towards Bright's disease by neglecting symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble which Foley's Kidney Remedy will quickly cure. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store.

DR. N. K. FOSTER IS APPOINTED

Made Medical Inspector of Schools By Board of Education

At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night Dr. N. K. Foster was appointed medical inspector of the schools of Oakland, at a salary of $3600 a year. For several months the board has been debating the advisability of appointing a regular physician as an inspector of the health of all children in the public schools and last night at a specially called meeting appointed Dr. Foster. It is the intention of the board that each and every child shall receive medical attention free of charge. The eyes, ears, nose and throats of the children will be examined. Many complaints to arise from defective nose, throat, eyes and ears. A little intelligent attention will often save the child from years of suffering. Even stupidity in school children has been traced to some minor affection of the nose.

His Duties

The medical examiner just appointed will pay particular attention to the all-much children so often escape the attention of the parents. He will also devote himself to the prevention of contagion by quickly isolating the cases discovered.

School Director Orr, who is chairman of the finance committee, opposed the measure on the ground that the city could not afford the expenditure of so large a sum. The other directors voted for the resolution.

On Grounds of Economy

Director Orr wished it understood that there was nothing save a desire for economy behind his opposition and that he had the highest personal regard for Dr. Foster, whose previous service to the community and State had been signal and had brought his name into deserved prominence.

The board also fixed salaries of teachers for the coming fiscal year, making them the same as prevailed last year. All of the old teachers were re-elected. The new teachers were appointed two weeks ago. Schools will be formally closed on June 11.

STANFORD TEAM PROFESSIONALS

Announcement by A. A. U.
Chairman Ridiculed by
"Dad" Moulton

NEW YORK, June 3.—One of the amateur athletic sensations of the year broke here yesterday when the members of the Stanford and University of Colorado track teams were declared professionals for taking part in an unsanctioned meet in Colorado the other day. The announcement was made by John J. Dier, chairman of the national registration committee of the American amateur union.

Nixon and his committee placed the two big college teams under the ban upon advice which he received from Bert Martin, chairman of the registration committee of the Rocky Mountain association.

Stanford was to have competed in the big conference meet to be held in Chicago Saturday, but the chances are that the team will not be eligible now that it has been declared professional.

Moulton Makes Denial

morning declared that it was impossible that his men should be declared professionals.

"While we were in Colorado we met the University of Colorado team at Boulder, thirty miles from Denver," said Moulton. "At the same time a meet was held in Denver on the race track there. The man who was in charge of this latter meet, which was a Marathon, I think, is Mr. Martin, and I think that he is connected with the Denver F. C. English, was today set aside by Justice Stafford of that court. The annulment of the A. A. U. rules that our meet detracted from the one held under his auspices.

"There was nothing much said about it in Denver, and I heard nothing more about it until his report comes to me now. A man is not a professional if he plays for money, and our men are all college men who have never played for a penny."

DE YOUNGS RUN DOWN BY AUTOS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 3.—Mr. and Mrs. M. H. de Young of San Francisco, and their daughter Florence, were on their way to the Broadway Theater last night in a taxicab when they were crashed into by another automobile. The chauffeur was thrown out and the de Young party was severely shocked, but none was badly hurt. At the request of de Young, who continued his trip to the theater with his family in another taxicab, no arrests were made.

Queen Has Ruling Of Court Set Aside

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The $1,000 judgment in default against former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, last April, in favor of her former court physician, Dr. Charles Q. English, was today set aside by Justice Stafford of that court. The annulment of the judgment was on a showing by Hawaii's former ruler that she had a meritorious defense, and that she was unaware of the service on the court's summons.

The Decision in the Le Doux Case.

It is hardly fair for the Stockton Mail to contend that the ruling of the Supreme Court in the Le Doux case is a reversal of the rule laid down in the Durrant decision. While decisions of the courts are proper subjects of criticism and discussion, it is essential that the points should be fully and fairly stated and that the purpose of the court's ruling should be made clear. Only in that way can a substantial basis be applied for any conclusion of value.

Without passing upon the merits of the Le Doux case it is pertinent to remark that examination discloses no real conflict between the decision reversing the judgment in that cause and the decision affirming the jury's verdict in the Durrant case. In the latter case the verdict was appealed from on the ground that two jurors challenged for cause were allowed to sit when they should have been discharged. The Supreme Court held that as the defense had not exhausted the number of peremptory challenges allowed by law the point was not well taken—in other words that the defense could easily have got rid of the jurors who were alleged to be prejudiced against the defendant by exercising the right of peremptory challenge.

A different issue was presented in the Le Doux case. The regular venue having been exhausted a special venue was selected for the trial. The special panel was challenged in a body on the ground that the sheriff who summoned the talesmen was openly and violently hostile to the defendant having publicly stated that he intended to see her convicted and hanged. That he was honest in his belief that he was guilty and that he was recruited by sincerity is not open to question. Yet he was nevertheless a partisan of the prosecution and doing all in his power to secure a conviction. The Supreme Court said in effect that it is an aim to try a defendant by a jury summoned by a man in Sheriff Sibley's frame of mind.

Whether the reasoning is sound is another question—the point is that in the Le Doux case the objection ran to the validity of the entire special venue, while in the Durrant case it ran only against the qualifications of two jurors that the defense could easily have had dismissed on peremptory challenges. It is true that the defense in the Le Doux case did not exhaust their allotment of peremptory challenges but that is of no importance since to excuse one man called on the special venue was merely to have him replaced by another special venireman summoned in the same way. Had one special venue been exhausted another would have been summoned in the same way by an officer of the court alleged to be biased and prejudiced against the defendant to such an extent as to be disbarred from serving.

Stress was laid by the State's attorneys on the fact that Sheriff Sibley did not personally summon the special venue. This contention was a quiet admission of bias and prejudice on the part of the sheriff. However, the jury was summoned by a deputy holding his position at the pleasure of the sheriff and the Supreme Court very properly held that the service by the inferior was, under the conditions, the same as if executed by the superior. Or Stockton contemporary, which at times exhibits a desire to be truthful and just, lays stress on the fact that Charles L. Hall, attorney for the Le Doux woman did not contend strongly in its argument before the Supreme Court on the alleged qualifications of the special venue summoned by Sheriff Sibley's deputy. Nevertheless the challenge to the venue was one of the points presented to the Supreme Court in support of the plea for a new trial.

No matter how little it is in importance Mr. L. Hall attached to it it was the main point of the Supreme Court to examine the qualifications of the special venue in arguing the case. A lawyer is a stake and the appellate tribunal was charged with the duty of deciding whether the condemned woman had been given a fair trial in contrast with the Le Doux. If a lawyer in view of the decision it was in his view were the court the strength of the crime charged against the accused could not be considered nor could his character and sufficiency of the evidence adduced be reviewed save to demonstrate that it was admissible and relevant and that its weight justified the verdict based upon it. If the challenge in terposed against the special venue should have been sustained when it was overruled then the decision of the Supreme Court is unassailable in law and morals. We are not prepared to say, or being familiar with the law and the particular facts regarding the alleged disqualification of the sheriff that the challenge should have been sustained, but we are justified in saying and believing that the court acted from the highest and most conscientious motives and while it may have erred on the side of mercy and given a strained construction of the law it is only fair to say that the ruling in the Le Doux case is not a continuation of the ruling in the Durrant case. It cannot be alleged that any improper or venial influence was exercised in behalf of the Le Doux woman. She is poor and destitute of honor and friends and the Supreme Court braved public opinion in granting her a new trial. To have sent her to the gallows would have won the judges applause instead of the harsh criticism they are now receiving. It was said that they affirmed the Durrant verdict to please an enraged public, but it cannot be said that in granting this miserable sentence degraded and—wrote—believe—criminal justice a new trial the judges did so from any motives other than humanity and a nice regard for the proprieties and impartiality of criminal procedure.

Detention of Immigrants.

The Department of Commerce and Labor has sent out here a special commissioner to examine into the condition of the Pacific Mail Company's sheds for the detention of Chinese immigrants whose right to land is in question and their cases to be thoroughly investigated by competent authority. The special commissioner condemns the quarters in unmeasured terms as unsanitary, faulty in construction, exposed to outside communication and dangerous in the event of an outbreak of fire.

More than likely all these allegations are true. But the chief blame lies after all with the government in not utilizing the immigration station which has been erected on Angel Island at great expense. The station has been built for the very purpose of detaining immigrants whose right to land is in doubt whose deportation has been ordered. It has been built on the most approved modern sanitary lines and contains every means of comfort for those who are detained. Moreover it is located where the escape is next to impossible of those who are detained by the immigration officers pending official investigation. The solution of the problem is not in converting an old steamship hulk into a detention quarter, but in turning the immigration station to the uses for which it was built.

That Vicksburg is in such a state of a shipwreck is at the very start a serious one. The California and New York shipyards are leaving on their own account to supply the wants of its own brewers and millers illustrates one of the erratic features of commerce.

Courts and "Frenzied Finance."

The Wall street (New York) whirlpool of speculation and "frenzied finance" is full of mysterious currents productive of curious results in which courts, law processes, forms of justice and the contending forces for supremacy become strangely mixed. A new phase of the struggle between the forces of the United Copper or Henze Company and the Amalgamated Copper or Standard Oil Company for the control of the copper market, which resulted in the wrecking of seven of the big banks of New York in the closing days of October, 1907, the shattering of many fortunes and the creation of a financial depression all over the civilized world from which it has not yet fully recovered, has just presented itself in connection with the inquiry before United States Circuit Judge Lacombe into the affairs of the Mercantile Bank, of which a brother of F. Augustus Henze, president of the United Copper Company, was president. President Henze has been under indictment for the fraudulent use of the bank funds which the evidence submitted in the trial indicated had been wrongfully used by the manipulation of the Henzes to control United Copper stocks. An order was last week issued by Judge Lacombe for the books of the United Copper Company to be produced this week in court. Henze, as president, refused to comply with the order shielding himself behind the plea that he was under indictment and that their production might impair his defense. Vice President Baglin was sent to jail on Tuesday for contempt of court because the books were not in the company's safe and he pleaded ignorance of their whereabouts.

Now, it develops that the whole proceeding was instituted for the purpose of influencing the election of directors of the United Copper Company which was held yesterday and that the powers of the court were invoked by one side or the other to control the result, for the latter leaves F. A. Henze in control. Baglin was dropped from the directorate and after the election was released from custody. The whole proceeding seems to have been merely a stock jobbing operation, in which the Federal Court was used as cat's paw. To paraphrase Bret Harte, "For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the "frenzied financiers are peculiar."

Erroneous Notions of Oakland.

A statement made the other day by one of our leading real estate men that most eastern visitors to Oakland are surprised to learn when they get here that the city has a population of more than 40,000 or 50,000, is full of suggestion and worthy of the most thoughtful consideration. They are surprised to learn when they are told that Oakland is a city of 235,000 population and an opportunity is given them to inspect it, and thus seeing for themselves, through personal observation, the indisputable evidence that their former notions of the population have been all awry, that the population claimed is here and that with the city and the territory immediately tributary to it there is a total population of at least 400,000. In every instance the testimony of personal observation has carried conviction with it. They have learned that Oakland is one of the great cities of the Pacific Coast, that it has a large commerce, is the terminus of four transcontinental lines, has one of the finest harbors on the Pacific Coast, with commercial possibilities unfolding before it rapidly which no other port on the western coast of the continent possesses, that it is the chief seat of manufacturing in the Far West and presents exceptional opportunities for the investment of capital.

These incidents prove conclusively that Oakland has been backward up to date in the matter of promotion and publicity. There is no question about it that Oakland's development has been retarded on that account in the past and that eastern people have been misled into the belief that it is only a small suburb of San Francisco. Our commercial bodies have, however, woken up to the fact that the policy of indifference in the past has been a grave mistake. A new leaf has been turned and intelligent efforts are being made to put the city's status fairly before the people at home and abroad. Promotion and publicity are doing good work but they must be kept constantly in motion and broadened out to produce permanent results.

B. T. Keith, of the big Keith & Proctor vaudeville circuit has put under the bin the ancient and stupid mother in law joke. It is high time some sensible manager with a decent appreciation of the amenities of domestic life put in the limbo of the forbidden vulgar and wretched flings at mothers with married daughters. Why should any man with the instincts of a gentleman see anything funny in suggestions that his wife's mother should be drowned, poisoned or chased by the dog? How many husbands have had their debts paid and their children clothed by the denuded mother in law? In how many homes has the mother in law come as a ministering angel, nursing the sick, taking on herself the cares of the household and smoothing the way of young married folks of difficulties and trials? Some mothers-in-law do make it true, but the vast majority of them are self-sacrificing and helpful assistants to the families of their married children. It is an insult to motherhood for some bloated, beersoaked runder to hurl flings at noble women from the stage. Let us hope that Mr. Keith's example will be followed by theatrical managers throughout the country. Not only is the so called mother in law stale and stupid, but it is unjust to women in general and a grave reflection on the manhood of husbands. A performer who has nothing better to offer the patrons of a theater deserves to be booted off the stage.

It is interesting to note that Los Angeles, which took the initiative in this State of oiling macadamized and natural roadways to give them a dustless surface in summer and a sandless surface in winter, is now experimenting with a process of road oiling under high steam pressure as a means of economy and greater utility. It is claimed that the process will reduce the volume of oil from 250 barrels to possibly 150 barrels per mile and dispense with the expense of sanding now necessary to utilize the oiled roadway without delay. In view of the fact that the supervisors are now experimenting with the oiling of the scenic foothill boulevard, the results of the new process in the southern cities constitute a subject of special interest to this county.

The long and successful voyage of Count Zeppelin's airship will probably give John Bull another scare. The British public have recently been a little afraid of the German navy and now that it has been demonstrated that the Germans have built an airship capable of sailing all over the British Isles in forty-eight hours John Bull will probably vent his feelings by writing to the London Times about it and denouncing Parliament

POLITICAL COMMENT

We are glad to see that Chicago voters no longer orations upon the death of the charter legislation. It is evidently appreciated here that this practice has gone out of fashion and also that it is a waste of time. In the next charter campaign we should first clean up things at home so that any Assemblyman or Senator who voted against his own city may have the time of his life explaining to his constituents why he did it. Then we should go out and present our case fully and frankly to the people of the State. This ought to turn the trick for us—Chicago Post.

Justice David J. Brewer of the United States Supreme Court, a jurist whom people of the West regard with special esteem, believes that the cost of the recent world cruise of the American battleship fleet was money wasted. This view is not generally concurred in by the public for the reason that the popular conception of the purposes of the cruise does not accord with that of Justice Brewer, who interprets the voyage as a mere naval demonstration of strength, to overawe the nations of the Orient and bring about peace. Viewed from that angle the money may or may not have been wasted, but this can hardly be called a far, or at least a complete, statement of the reason for the cruise or the effects resulting therefrom—Kansas City Journal.

Coney is not the only resort that is destined to have a rude awakening this year as to its accountability to the law of behavior on Sunday. The old free-and-easy era is passing away—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

The proposition to prohibit Sunday amusement of all kinds at Coney Island has aroused a big sensation in and around New York. It would practically mean the death blow to this unique summer resort. But all the same, if the law is to be enforced in other parts of New York why not at Coney? Only six day licenses will be granted hereafter unless the court intervenes, and Coney Island on Sunday will bear a close resemblance to Ocean Grove—Allentown Leader.

Shall Coney Island wear a Sunday lid? Well, how would you like to be buried from Juneau Park of a Sunday?—Milwaukee Journal.

NEWEST THINGS IN ELECTRICITY AND THE TRIUMPHS OF SCIENCE

A complete wireless telegraph equipment has been installed at the Ohio State University and will become a permanent addition to the engineering department.

The Illinois Central Railroad has adopted the telephone for train dispatching and within the year all the main lines will be systematized. The Burlington line is already operating 1400 miles in this way.

The first lot of electric locomotives to be used by the Pennsylvania railroad in its tunnels through New York have been ordered. These locomotives are to be the most powerful ever built. Each will consist of two units, and each unit will be equipped with a 2000-horse-power motor. The locomotives will be capable of running at a rate of 90 miles per hour.

A musical instrument has recently been exhibited, which resembles a piano, but the wires instead of being struck with hammers are vibrated by means of electro-magnets.

A press message was recently sent from a New York to a Chicago paper by means of wireless telegraphy from the tower of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to the Auditorium Annex. It was only after repeated attempts to get the Chicago station that communication was finally established.

An air-tight lamp for mines has been invented. It will burn for twelve hours on a single charge and gives a light of between one and two candle power.

According to a recent press report, a new system of wireless telegraphy has just been completed by the German Telefunken Wireless Telegraph Company. The system goes by the name of "singing sparks," and it is claimed for it that it produces continuous oscillations.

A new form of arc lamp has just been devised, in which carbon disks are used instead of carbon rods. These disks are constantly rotated, and the arcs take place between the peripheries of the disks. Owing to the continuous rotation, the disks are consumed uniformly. It is claimed for the lamp that it will burn 50 per cent longer than the rod type.

The members of the Signal Corps at Washington recently inflated "Dirigible No. 1." The airship was in its shed fully inflated, and the tent had been erected near by to receive it, when a heavy thunder shower suddenly sprang up. The wind blew down the tent, and a bolt of lightning apparently passed through the balloon shed, going in one door and out the other, while several officers were present. Fortunately, the hydrogen gas was not ignited.

In all probability the Aeromarine Society will be the first American organization to own a Wright aerial plane. Upon their arrival at New York negotiations were at once opened with the Wrights for one of their machines, a few of which are being made by them at Dayton, Ohio, for customers in this country.

Queer Bits of History

Mr. Taft's visit to Charlotte was most highly appreciated by all the people of both Carolinas. We believe that he is the first President who has visited this North Carolina town, and his reception was as sincere as it was enthusiastic. So far as we could judge there was no politics in it in a mean and partisan sense, but only a complete fraternalization as was most happily expressed by Mrs. Stonewall Jackson in her welcome to the President as "the harmonizer of our hearts." The best thing said about Mr. Taft's address at Charlotte was by one of the greatest newspapermen in the South who is not emotionally associated with the Charlotte Observer, and who said after the President's deliverance at the Auditorium: "Yes, that was a fine speech, but it was a dangerous speech." "Dangerous," however, we should say, only in the way that it may make not only North Carolina, but other states in the South, as well as in the South, a political ground. This is what we have all been hoping for in a theoretical way and bemoaning the conditions which would not permit it.

If it shall result from what Mr. Taft said in Charlotte the other day, why should any man who has been chafing under the restraints of party obligations regard the President's utterances as dangerous? We may differ on issues but not upon race, for her and for everybody else than for her to rise what she has been so that against the threat of Republican activity in the South on political grounds it is reported that Carrie made considerable money in her trade of mashing grogshop-keepers could afford to pay liberally to have her break a window. Burglar Forgot That Mothers Are Heroic

NEW YORK—Believing that her husband, who is a grocer, was arising to make an early start for market, Mrs. Lillian Rubin, twenty-five years old, who lives at No. 242 Corona avenue, Corona, Queens Borough, was not alarmed when she was aroused by a man walking about her bedroom at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. She was dressed and did not notice that the man thrust his hand under a pillow and took $16 in cash and a check for $7.50. Her husband is in the habit of placing under his pillow every night the money which he takes to market next morning. Rubin usually arises and leaves the house between 1 and 2 a.m.

Mrs. Rubin had not awakened when her husband arose and departed shortly after 1 o'clock. Not intending to buy much produce, he had left part of his money.

Mrs. Rubin described the burglar to Detective Saseen, of the Newtown precinct, and he arrested Michael Chille, twenty years old, of No. 46 Walker street, later yesterday afternoon.

Arrest Verified Her Fears in Letter

NEW YORK—Charged with having stolen a handbag from the jewelry counter of a big Sixth avenue dry goods store, a young woman who said she was Helen E. Harris, was arraigned in the Lent Court last evening. She gave her address as the Florence Mission in Bleeker street and said she was thirty-five years old. She appeared intelligent and well educated. A paratetic letter was found on the woman after her arrest. It was addressed to a Mr. Turner, but was unsigned.

Special Officer Daniel Kash of the store alleged that the woman had frequented the store for several days. He said she had in some way got blank sale slips and pieces of the store's wrapping paper. He said she was to wrap small articles in the paper and take them to the shop with the sales slip, saying the goods did not suit her. The cashiers believed they were returning the price to a dissatisfied customer.

Finds She Is Heiress While House Cleaning

PHILADELPHIA—To discover while housecleaning that she had been named as the chief heiress of a large estate by a man who was not known to have any considerable possessions was the unusual surprise which recently came to Mrs. Margaret Hale, of 2330 Reed street.

For five years prior to his death, on March 22, the Rev. Dr. John Kirkpatrick, who many years ago was pastor of West Presbyterian Church, then at Broad and Fitzwater streets, resided with Mr. and Mrs. George Haar at the Reed street address.

After the clergyman's death, the Rev. Dr. D. Stuart Moore, of the Church of the Atonement, Broad and Wharton streets, a family connection, went through Dr. Kirkpatrick's effects and then took out letters of administration. A month later Mrs. Hale, assisted by her neighbor, Mrs. Edna Dwyer, of 2625 Reed street, was cleaning the room which had been occupied by the aged minister. A bundle of papers was found. It was about to be cast aside by Mrs. Dwyer when Mrs. Haar, with true housewife instinct, advised that the papers be first examined. This Mrs. Dwyer proceeded to do, and was startled to discover on a sheet of note paper a bequest by Dr. Kirkpatrick to his friend, Mrs. Haar, of all his property, with the exception of a legacy of $10,000 to his sister, Margaret Moore, of Ireland. The paper purporting to be a will bore the date of March 22, and was apparently executed by the minister on the day of his death. It had no witnesses.

The document was taken to Attorneys Cleverley and Patton, who have filed a petition asking a revocation of the letters of administration granted to the Rev. Dr. Stuart Moore.

The value of the estate has been estimated at $200,000.

Woman Can Take All the Time She Wants Fitting Pair of Shoes

CHICAGO, June 3.—A woman may take up all the time she can get of a clerk in a shoe store. Then after she has tried all the shoes in the store and bought a single pair, she can return them and get her money back if they pinch her foot when she gets them home.

This was the decision handed down by Municipal Judge Gemmill in the case of Miss R. Louise Jacobson against a State street shoe shop.

Miss Jacobson said when she returned the shoes the firm offered her a credit memorandum for the amount she had paid. She demanded her money back and when the firm refused to give it to her she sued. A letter in which the president of the firm said Miss Jacobson had taken up so much of the salesman's time he could not return her money was the cause of the court's ruling.

"This is not a question of how much time a woman takes up in buying her shoes. Her privilege is to take as much time as she thinks she needs to insure a good fit. Judgment for the plaintiff."

There are said to be 2,000,000 women working as domestics or as farm laborers, the latter for the most part in the south, and 4,000,000 are working in other occupations of the country.

Elizabeth Chesser, who has been investigating the condition of woman prisoners in England, says that skilled workers are seldom found among them.

Twenty-Second Anniversary of Ladies' Aid Society Is Celebrated

The twenty-second anniversary of the organization of Catholic Ladies' Aid Society No. 1, was celebrated with a banquet at Key Route Inn at 1 o'clock this afternoon with 250 members, patrons and ecclesiastical representatives of the association in attendance.

SECRET MARRIAGE, THEN DESERTION

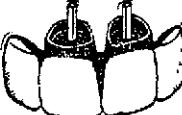

Minnie Eckert Granted Divorce and Receives Her Maiden Name

Minnie E. Eckert, 18 years old, and comely, residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Strayer of 651 Sycamore street, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge Walter C. Waring, from Charles A. Eckert, on the ground of desertion and abandonment.

She was married to Eckert in this city in December, 1908, when she was not yet 16 years old. She had a secret marriage, judging from the evidence in the case, and three days afterwards the girl's fond dream of nuptial bliss was shattered by her young husband deserting her.

Mrs. Eckert told the court her husband's mother opposed the marriage because her son's bride was not a Catholic and influenced him to desert her. When Eckert took her to see his people after the ceremony, she testified, his mother told her her husband was learning that she was a Protestant, that her son should not live with her.

REACHING THE SPOT

It Can Be Done, So Scores of Oakland Citizens Say

To cure an aching back. The pains of rheumatism. The tired-out feelings.

You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Mrs. C. Anderson, 1161 E. Fifteenth St., East Oakland, Cal. says: "For years I suffered from severe pains in my back. I also had rheumatism and knew that this was due to the failure of my kidneys to eliminate the uric poison from my system. The kidney secretions were distressing in passage and too frequent and I had puffy spots before my eyes. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I purchased a box and was cured. I am perfectly willing to have my name used as one who endorses Doan's Kidney Pills, for I feel that I cannot speak too highly of them."

EVERHART OUT FOR AUDITOR

Councilman's Boom for County Office is Launched by Club

Councilman Harold Everhart of the First Ward, launched his boom last night for the position of auditor of Alameda county at a banquet of residents of that ward, in Armantine's hall on Forty-seventh street, near Shattuck avenue, at which there were about 150 persons present.

There was no formal announcement of the candidacy of Everhart for the office named, but there was a general understanding among the best informed of his friends that the county auditor's office was his ambition and those who were not informed in the premises followed the sentiment of leaders who were appreciative of Mr. Everhart's work in the council when they shouted that they would support him for any office to which he might aspire.

The demonstration was on the occasion of the establishment of a club in Temescal, the leaders of which have not as yet made up their minds as to whether it is to be social or political in character, or whether it is to be intended simply for the purposes of improving that section. There was no doubt last night that the organization was an Everhart Club.

Chosen President

A. Vander Nallen was elected temporary president and acted ex-officio as toastmaster and Peter Anderson was honored by the position of temporary vice-president.

The president, in a short address, said that they had been called together for the purpose of forming and organizing a club for the benefit, in many ways, of that section and that they would probably have a similar gathering about once a month with those purposes in view. It gave him great pleasure to announce that they all approved of the work of Mr. Everhart in the council and that they would be pleased to support him for any office to which he might aspire. The sentiment was received with cheers.

Harry Puifester stated that, in his section of the ward, namely, the Piedmont District, there had been organized the Blair Club, which was intended to look after all the interests of that section. He understood also, that other clubs would be established in other parts of the ward. He hoped that all those clubs could be enabled to act in unison from east to west, as well as from north to south for the benefit of the section.

Mayo Mott Present

Mayo Mott was late in arriving, owing to engrossments at the city hall but took occasion to command the work of Mr. Everhart as a member of the council.

Other speeches were delivered by Frank Galmarino, Peter Anderson, Peter Mullen, Dr. A. S. Kelly, L. Zimansky, who, among other things, proposed the sentiment that the organization would stand for Everhart under all circumstances; Jack Mellon, former library trustee and William Ellison.

Mr. Everhart was received with cheers when he appeared on the platform and said that he greatly appreciated what had been done in his honor. He felt that the compliment was not due to him personally but to his actions in the council. If he should take all the compliments paid to him literally his head would be so swelled that he would not be able to wear his hat.

While the speeches were in progress, the guests partook of refreshments.

CONFEDERATE CELEBRATION. NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—Jefferson Davis' birthday and Confederate Memorial Day were celebrated jointly throughout Louisiana today. Tributes were paid to the President of the Confederacy and to the Confederates who fell under his leadership.

Mr. Everhart was received with cheers when he appeared on the platform and said that he greatly appreciated what had been done in his honor. He felt that the compliment was not due to him personally but to his actions in the council. If he should take all the compliments paid to him literally his head would be so swelled that he would not be able to wear his hat.

While the speeches were in progress, the guests partook of refreshments.

BISHOP REFUSES
SCHUBERT OFFER

Ye Liberty Manager Will Not Give Up Theater to Eastern
Trust Fighter

The Schuberts, the great theatrical firm which has so many theaters in the East, which has just been enabled to secure a house in San Francisco and which is also to build a theater in this city, have been unsuccessful in the matter of getting control also of the Liberty Theater, which is now under lease to Harry Bishop.

It was announced in these columns some weeks ago that the Schuberts had decided to build here one of the finest theaters in the country, but the owning of a theater by them was not considered sufficient to satisfy their ambition and, for this reason they sought to secure the lease of the Liberty.

Speaking on the subject, Louis Bishop, who is temporarily in charge of the house during the illness of his brother, said:

The Schuberts have made us an offer for the house, but we have sent them a letter declining the offer. I informed them that the house would continue to be run as a stock house.

"We are now engaging a new company. In fact, I may say that the company has already been organized. We have principals coming from some of the finest theaters in the country, and when they and the others for minor parts arrive we will have, as we always have had, the finest stock company in the country and the performances will continue to be on the scale of excellence for which this theater has been noted all over the country."

CALIFORNIA HAS
SUPERB EXHIBIT

50,000 Visitors at Seattle Told of Opportunities in Golden State

SEATTLE, June 3. — Of the 96,154 people as shown by the full reading of the gates entering the Alaska-Exposition Tuesday more than 50,000 visited the California building and admired the splendid exhibits, according to the estimates of the State Commissioners in charge, Francis Wiggins of Los Angeles and J. A. Filcher of Sacramento. Yesterday in proportion to the attendance the same remarkable interest was manifested.

The commission maintains a register, turned out by the Hicks-Judd company, a California concern, and declared to be the largest bound book ever made, weighing 550 pounds, and in this great record the names of visitors, where they so desire, are inscribed. No questions are asked as to nationality, place of residence, but in two days upward of 600 California citizens have enrolled themselves as visitors.

Mrs. Filcher and Wiggins are veterans in the entertainment California's exhibits, as represented at all the principal affairs of the kind held throughout the world during the past two decades. One or the other has been connected with the State's exhibits at each of the past nine expositions held.

"The State makes an appropriation from time to time as such affairs are launched," Commissioner Wiggins said, "and we are expected to do better at each succeeding exposition. Sometimes it is difficult to view the size of the appropriation, but we manage to make good, and I have no hesitancy in saying that for the money and space we have California building and its exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition are by far the best and most interesting ever displayed in the State's name."

MRS. D. GILLIGAN'S NAME
UNDER WRONG PICTURE

Through a typographical error in an early edition yesterday the picture of Mrs. Gilligan was run labeled Mrs. C. A. Kilkner. The error was corrected, however, in the remaining editions.

Mrs. Gilligan (nee Miss Keres Werner) was married to Mr. Gilligan on May 29, William N. Van de Mark of the county treasurer's office performing the ceremony.
